It's written down in field reports
About what happened, what we saw
I used to buy it as the truth
Although there wasn't any proof
The ones in charge always deny
And we're accused of telling lies
They do intend to make us look
Like a good laugh
In their eyes there's something more
And what we've dug up to the core
Is far beyond
Our wildest dreams

It's about time to draw conclusions
For sometimes we don't see
And ain't supposed to know the truth
About the big conspiracy

You know the truth will be denied
You know there's someone on your side
We've come too far to give up
And that's the point we know too much

For all the troubles we have been through
All the images we've seen
I am aware that we've been used
To cover up
We followed traces that were laid
And the discoveries we made
Were part of the conspiracy

It's about time to draw conclusions
For sometimes we don't see
And ain't supposed to know the truth
About the big conspiracy

Well I am tired of staring
As if a star fell from the sky
But there is something there to find
The ancient tale is not a lie
Now I am tired of waiting
But how was I to know

That what I used to call the truth
Was just an image of my hopes
