The night's enchanting - a locust speaks
Am I too demanding - you're so neat
Gore on your garment - your pale face
No convulsion - just grace

'Tears on my pillow' is our song
Tunes from the past that we sang along
These times are over now I have to say
It's time to leave you

I can see now, there's no tomorrow
Leaving you now
So why should I surrender
I can see now, there's no tomorrow
Leaving you now
It seems there is no coming back
Maybe I'm guilty - could be true
But say who was cheating - was that you
If he was the right one - who will know
You won't believe me

Darkness sorrounds you - brick by brick
Though you're so delicate I admit
I really feel sorry, you're on the decline
It's time to leave you

I can see now, there's no tomorrow
Leaving you now
So why should I surrender
I can see now, there's no tomorrow
Leaving you now
It seems there is no coming back
