I am on my own
And I am starving
To call you on the phone
I've been sitting here
Too long
Fighting, fighting
And now I am aggressive

Where have you been
Hiding from me?
Avoiding me like I'm a sin
But there's so much
That you don't see
So much for what we meant

I don't know
How I will get over you
You stole my heart
So now I'm stealing you

Used to be
Everything you want
But now
I gotta chase you
In the dark
You never cared
About the flaws
I flaunt
But now
They're tearing us apart
No you're not at liberty
To change the way
I'm supposed to be
When did you forget
I am the perfect me

I crave when you are here
To keep you for me
But somehow you disappear
Cuz that's how you think
Things should be
Losing you is what I fear

But I'm not begging
For your love
You on your knees
Is what I'm thinking of

Used to be
Everything you want
But now I gotta chase you
In the dark
You never cared about
The flaws
I flaunt
But now
They're tearing us apart
To change the way
I'm supposed to be
When did you forget
I am the perfect

I don't mean
To be obsessive
Though I am so possessive
So why can't you stop
Running away
And start learning
To behave
Don't you remember when

Used to be
Everything you want
But now I gotta chase you
In the dark
You never cared
About the flaws
I flaunt
But now
They're tearing us apart
No you're not at liberty
To change the way
I'm supposed to be
Used to be
Everything you want
I am the perfect me
