I used to sit all alone,
your not by my side, I'm staring straight on;

Every day is a new one I know, but your stupid enough, to get suspended (splendid)

And I know it's not me, it is you,
but that's not my fault,
your on the ball;

CHOROUS:
Now I walk the streets,
by myself,
not a reason left to sing,
and then out of the blue,
my cell starts to ring,
and it's you (oh)
and it's you (oh)
and it's you

Now the days are feeling a bit strange, I know in my heart,
it's only for the best;

and now I know the reason, you came to me with treason, it's her.
