In paradiscos
We get bored of breaking windows
Turning beggars into heroes
Bodies moving innuendos
In paradiscos
Looking for only pleasure
A little pain, take a measure
When you're a flame that'll burn forever
And forever

I'll burn an effigy out of the past
Then our clothes catch fire as we dance
And I wonder how long it would last
Walking through a room full of broken glass

In paradiscos
We'll make a million out of zeroes

Split an apple with an arrow
Play the violin like Nero
In paradiscos
Into the eye of a needle
You can fly like a mosquito
And turn into a million different people
In paradiscos

I'll burn an effigy out of the past
Then our clothes catch fire as we dance
And I wonder how long it can last
Walking through the room full of broken glass

I'll burn an effigy out of the past
Then our clothes catch fire as we dance
And I wonder how long it can last
Walking through the room full of broken glass
