Your silhouette only remains on the day you left me,
Alone in my sleep,
Sanity, is fighting off the demons
Just to keep two souls in one dream,
Maybe your hearts like a satellite
Homing on thoughts in my mind,
We wasted words on valentines,

Now, Love Lies Bleeding
All over my feelings,
You'll never trust cause of vanity,

You'll never trust cause your souls got wings and it's flown.
If your loosing faith then that's fine,
But it's hardly a jaw breaking crime,
When conversation cuts off
And it's time to say good-bye to say goodbye,

I wanna drive a highway through your veins,
Your words hurt like a haemoridging brain,
Your fever is strong and burns
All my tears to salt in these eyes,
We wasted words on valentines,

Now, Love Lies Bleeding
All over my feelings,
You'll never trust cause of vanity,

It's plain to see that were down on our knees
And our rainbow's gone colorblind,
Your smile is so cheap it's the devil in me,
Were victims of this reckless life,

Now, Love Lies Bleeding
All over my feelings,
You'll never trust cause of vanity
