If you're felling lost in the darkness
And you don't know what to do
Everywhere you go there is magic
Look around and let it through.
You will find your way, you will find it
Take your wings and learn to fly
Set alight to your dream
Burn it bright for your dream
And you'll find that one day...
You can touch the sun
You can touch the sky, oh
You can touch the moon
You can touch the stars, oh
Listen to a bird in the sunshine
See a footprint in the snow
Follow it and start on your journey
And no matter where you go
You will find your way, you will find it
Take your wings and start to fly
Hold on tight to your dream
Don't lose sight of your dream
And you'll know that someday
You can touch the sun
You can touch the sky, oh
You can touch the moon
You can touch the stars, oh
Once you're on a path never leave it
Even if you fell unsure
Close your eyes, be brave and believe it,
Let your spirit start to soar.
I can touch the moon, I can touch the stars, oh
You will find your way, you will find it
Take your wings now you can fly
And your dream will never die.
