

BedWetters

"Trapped Between Myself"

Visit "Trapped Between Myself" on MotoLyrics.com

I believe,
When habits grow on me too deep
They start to bring me down
And I begin to drown.
Hard to breathe,
When lungs keep falling in.

Look back, and leave behind those empty problems
Not worth taking with you.
Right now I feel relieved from the bottom of my heart.
I despised the same old lies, that used to set me apart.

I've been searching for a light,
That leads me away from my past.
I've been praying for a fight,
That set's me free at last.

Rest in peace,
Cause that's the end of everything,
That caused the dreams of horror,
Slapped me with hands of sorrow.
Time to feel
The relief of breathing air so pure.

Look back, and leave behind those empty problems
Not worth taking with you.
Right now I feel relieved from the bottom of my heart.
I despised the same old lies, that used to set me apart.

I've been searching for a light,
That leads me away from my past.
I've been praying for a fight,
That set's me free at last.

Visit BedWetters page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.