I just don't understand How love became your problem Hearts that should not cry

No words are missing, but it's not understood It's time to take me back to school So fine just as you are I could be the life you save I'll be there when you need your World of girls and boys think about the kill before you draw the bow

And cut me low Like an Arrow through the heart, arrow through the heart, oh
arrow through the heart, arrow through the heartbreak and the pain
Never smiling in the rain

Never to be seen again, nothing makes you die ;
Like an arrow through the heart

High flying bird, you can never love nobody
But I will not lose my dream Birds of a feather, they are never outflown
I guess the sky is beautiful But an arrow through the heart, arrow through the heart, oh
arrow through the heart, arrow through the heart break over you, steady hand your aim is true Bring me to my knees again

I'm too young to die
I'm too young to die...

My silver moon!
My golden sun!

World of girls and boys, think about the kill before you
draw the bow
And cut me low

Like an arrow through the heart, arrow through the
heart, oh,
Arrow through the heart, arrow through the heart...
