I wasn't born to be alone that was a lesson I was shown
To know that love was just a lie
I ran away to think it over
But it's over and I try to take a stand on what is real

Someone has shown me how to feel
I'm like a shadow in the night
I'm like a river in an ocean
I'm a flame without a light

Now, I'm cryin' every day
And I been cryin' every day
And I been thinkin' of your love
I keep turnin', I keep turnin'
I keep turnin', I keep turnin'

Well, your love is a cathedral
And I came down here to pray
And now I'm cryin' every day

Can there be any wonder, why to be livin' under?
Love is a revelation only few can share
I could be a mountain strong but the pain about you
Long as I live without you, I would still be there

I wanna die, die away
Never love, never cry

I been walkin' in the rain
And I been hangin' on a dream
All the faces and the places
That our love has ever been

Now I'm cryin' every day
And I been cryin' every day
And I been thinkin' of your love
I keep turnin', I keep turnin'
I keep turnin', I keep turnin'

Well, your love is a cathedral
And I came down here to pray
And now I'm cryin' every day

Can there be any wonder why to be livin' under
Love is a revelation only few can share
I could be a mountain strong but the pain about you
Long as I live without you, I would still be there

I wanna die, die away
Never love, never cry

I wasn't born to be a fool
But I'm a fool to be around
I'm a man without a country
I'm a King without a crown
And then you're throwin' me away

Another world, another time
But if anyone belongs to anybody
You were mine

And I'm cryin' every day
And I been cryin' every day
And I've keep thinkin' of your love
I keep turnin', I keep turnin'
I keep turnin', I keep turnin'

Well, your love is a cathedral
And I came down here to pray
And now I'm cryin'
I'm cryin', cryin'
I'm cryin' in your love
I've keep thinkin' for your love
Cryin', cryin'
