When I wake up in the morning
There's something on my mind
And suddenly without warning
Somebody's standing behind
And it's you , babe
And it's you , babe

If I were the sky , I could look down onto you
That one day , if you join me , ev'ry sky will be blue
Ev'ry day with you

You know I still think you owe me
I dream ev'ry night that you do
So what is it that's making me lonely
I've known all along what it is
And it's you , babe
And it's you , babe

If I were the sky , I could look down onto you
That one day , if you join me , ev'ry sky will be blue
Ev'ry day with you

If I were the sky , I could look down onto you
That one day , if you join me , ev'ry sky will be blue
Ev'ry day with you
With you
With you
