We all need somebody
Some stranger in the dark
You know I really love to love you
I gave it everything I got
To find you in someone else's arms
But I was always dreaming of you

The kind of love you follow
Not without a reason
Every last tomorrow
Every single season

Hold me in your power
Drag me through the fire
Watch me writhe in agony
Make me bleed and all I need
Is someone to believe in

Someone to believe in
Someone to believe in
Someone to believe in
Why I need someone to believe in

Black night and thunder
Under your spell, you see the man
With the urge to go home with you
One soul forever lost
In your far off distant land
No one watches you like I do

All of life's emotions
All that love can give you
To convey the feeling
Someone's got to love you right now

Hearts of fire
Burning in the night
Tell you that's what love is
But what I really mean is
All I need is someone to believe in

Someone to believe in

Someone to believe in
Someone to believe in
Someone to believe in
Someone to believe in
All I need, all I need

Hold me in your power
Drag me through the fire
Watch me writhe in agony
Make me bleed and all I need is Someone to believe in
