Wildflower, sacrifice everything
In a wonderland that you know
It's crazy that I'm clear out of my mind
A wonderful place to be

Wildflower, sweet as the morning light
If I blink an eye, will you go?
I'm starting to care much more than I dare
A wonderful thing to see
And what do we know

First say, 'You love me'
And then say, 'You leave me'
But we never say goodbye
God, you're an angel
But even an angel must choose

Someone will hurt you
And when you stop running
There's only this love of mine

Wildflower, sacrifice everything
In a wonderland that you know
If older is wise, one look in your eyes
I'm younger than I should be
And only time, waiting for you to grow

First say, 'You love me'
And then say, 'You leave me'
But we never say goodbye
God, you're an angel
But even an angel must choose

Someone will hurt you
And when you stop running
There's only this love of mine

Wildflower, sacrifice everything
In a wonderland that you know
If older is wise, one look in your eyes
I'm younger than I should be
And only time, waiting for you to grow
