Light return my heart and
With a single meaning in life
Wake up the angels of death
They call us from the otherside

You have cursed my heart into nothing
Drowned yourself in this tempest of chaos
I've seen the fate of this world

The morning looks beneath a bleak starlight
These haunted shores
Will not lead anywhere
They have perished forever

I am the master, I'm the ruler, I am everything Thought I was better and life would spring on my hand

Burn me alive inside, burn this heartless existence,
engulfed in pride
Burn me alive inside, burn this heartless existence,
engulfed in pride

I gave you the morning light
I gave you the burning stars
Until the sun shines on my face
Smiles at me tears of comfort

Enlight up the darkness
Enlight everything
This man sails through the endless
These waves lead to nowhere

Your eyes, they speak to me like needles into my heart
Your eyes, they stand and watch, my hands reaching for life
Your eyes, they stand and watch, my hands reaching
for life
