Good morning, isolation
My old friend, we're one again
Hidin' out in these foreign clothes
Dragged across the same old fields

Gone, gone
Drawn from you
For far too long
Fifteenth dawn

Hello, desperation
We've come face to face again
Good evening, endless night
Freezing cold, hours and hours
Lend me your ears and we'll reflect
On the nature of this
One sided deal

Gone, gone
Drawn from you
For far too long
Fifteenth dawn

The war is over
The billboards shout
It never ends
The fuel never runs out
If war is the answer
Who's asking the question?
If war is the answer
Change the question
Let's change the question
