Counting down the fallen days
Crossing off the calender
Watching as the sun goes down
Will we see it come back up?
Death a knockn' at the door
Watching as his ship rolls in
Watching loved ones sail away...
Some are strangers some are friends

Don't worry gods children
The lord takes care of you
Don't worry we're all sleeping
In the middle of his hand

Trust in life the only way
Behind each shadow lies his plan
You can read it in the book of sorrows
Written in the hearts of man
Watching as the sun goes down
Watching as his ship comes in
Watching loved ones sail away...
