An aging woman, she sits still by her window Dreaming her love is gonna call her on the phone (Call her on the phone)
??? There have been four???, make-up faded, into wrinkles
Her dreams are fables for she's all alone
Outside the wind lashes raindrops on the window Coming to get her like the year she watched go by (The year she watched go by) Now 30 years on,??? she's not there, non the wiser???
There's still no-one around to hear her cry
And when the rain goes, the pain stays inside her
And you spend at parties in nightclubs and bars
Desperate for friendship and shallow over deeper Too self obsessed to digest who you are
Every night, a beautiful party
Every night, a beautiful man
Every morning when she finds she landed another one night stand
Her friends have left and told her, steadies are just for squares
But now see looks around her and finds they're all in pairs

Her many friends all told her Those who live like, so much??? confuss???, she never thought of herself (Thought of herself) So busy following, aware cost of living, never So they will do is,??? nothing else???
And when the rain goes, the pain stays inside her

And you spend at parties in nightclubs and bars
Desperate for friendship and shallow over deeper
Too self obsessed to digest who you are
Every night, a beautiful party
Every night, a beautiful man
night stand
squares
But now see looks around her and finds they're all in
pairs

As she goes by, she knows nothing's gonna happen
Her lovers came and went like passing drops of rain (Passing drops of rain)
And thou it hurts her to know it, won't get better There's always drink to take away the pain
And as she's??? wing???, she don't think anymore
And you spend at parties in nightclubs and bars
Desperate for friendship and shallow over deeper
Too self obsessed to digest who you are
Every night, a beautiful party
Every night, a beautiful man
night stand
squares
But now see looks around her and finds they're all in pairs

That's it
All rise?
Go, go, go, go
Move were else
