There are times when I'm alone
I think of you and I need to calm down
There are times when I see you
I want to tell you that you got to come around

There are things that you possess
I can't resist and could never turn now
There are things that you affect
I never dreamt could ever be found

There's a fire in my soul yeah
Because of you now why don't come around
There's a fire in my soul yeah
Because of you now you ought to come around
Oh come around
Why don't you come around
Oh come around

This here place deep in my heart
Well it won't change no matter where you go
This here place deep in my heart
Is just for you and I know that it will grow

Out of seas of uncertainty
You can come here and I will keep you warm
In times that you are lost
You can come here and I will keep you warm

There's a fire in my soul yeah
Because of you now why don't come around
There's a fire in my soul yeah
Because of you now you ought to come around, come around
Oh come around
Why don't you come around
Oh come around

I can't give what you can buy
But I can give you all I call my own
This comfort, this ease, this state of mind
Ain't nothing we can hold

I can't give what you can buy
But I can give you all I call my own
This comfort, this ease, this state of mind
Ain't nothing we can hold
