(feat. Massari)

[Intro:]

This goes to the home right now out to all my Arabs matter fact, anybody, any race if you ever struggled this ones for you

[Chorus:]

I've seen a lot of (ohh)
I've seen a lot of hurt and pain
I've seen the coldest nights
I've seen a million people change
know let me know
why did you make me break my promise
I need to know
I need to go back to where my heart is (yeah)
Habayibna

[Verse 1:]

I lost friends
it's wrong when the strong men die or get locked up when will it all end all my real thugs they feel love I'll miss y'all even if no body else still does don't be thinkin this is only a song this is a letter to my homies who's gone

Habayibna

I'm staying strong yes I'm staying calm I know my niggers in a better place so I'm praying for them all my homies I'm depressed for cause if they're not 6 feet under we talkin through collect calls and at night its hard to sleep but all y'all will always be

Habayibna (Damn)

[Chorus:]

I've seen a lot of (ohh)
I've seen a lot of hurt and pain
I've seen the coldest nights
I've seen a million people change
know let me know
why did you make me break my promise
I need to know
I need to go back to where my heart is (yeah)
Habayibna

[Verse 2:]

Its hard livin we all wishin that god listens and answers our prayers to the thugs who's gone missin and we feel a lot of pain the problems came when found out to survive that we gotta change
don't be thinking that I'm only gon talk this is a poem to the homies we lost

Habayibna (I miss you)

Cause they made me feel so strong I wanna let they go when they explode but i hold on, and it hurts we ain't spoken in so long, I think about it and I start choken its so wrong, but any time you can call on me cause all y'all will always be

Habayibna (Damn)

[Chorus:]

I've seen a lot of hurt and pain
I've seen the coldest nights
I've seen a million people change
know let me know
why did you make me break my promise
