(Incidentally, this is my favourite love song and is "our song" for my fiancée and I.)

(??? Something inaudible is whispered. ???)

Well, tell me one thing; Is there madness in this reason?

And tell me something that I never knew before.

The consequences of my actions aren't confusing;

They're just wanting the direction that I've never had before.

I was happy, now I'm walking on the water.

I was laughing, now I'm floating in the air, 'cause I found you.

These gut reactions are the best thing you can go by.

Premonitions are the second, that's for sure.

(That's for sure, whoooah.)

I'm caught by your eyes; They just surprised me, overpowered me.

I stand here waiting in the calm before the storm.

I'm delirious -- as happy as you're crazy.

It's nothing serious or difficult to cure, 'cause I found you.

Yeah, I found you.

Your smile is like the ocean, your kiss the seven seas.

Your eyes like magic potions; They just enrapture me.

I promise my affection for all eternity.

You are my resurrection. You mean the world to me.
