It's a hard fact to face that nothing you do
Could ever stop me from going away
And by the look on your face you now realize
You drove me out cause you never believed what I say

[Chorus]

Cause you listen to all your friends
Telling all those tales about me
So why don't you go away
And follow all the rest of the sheep I wont lose no sleep

Now you're fading in the picture you realize the situ?

You've got no one to cry to anymore but it's not my fault
Now who will you run to to make them believe you I was the one who dumped you away but that's not the case

You could 've saved it all if you'd just listen to me Tell you my side of the story you never believe what I say
