How easy and comfortable it's to be master in your own world

Enter my circle and let be a human instrument of it

Betray me and wait for your retribution

The mind next to the body patiently waits

And takes a look at the I'll entity

The weak empty body enchained to unavoidable decrepitude

Condemned to return to ashes as impotent witness

My rules, my vision, my doom

You can be all and nothing from a second to another

As you're over with human state there is no turning back

There is no turning back

Just patiently wait for your fate

Human as I know me

Thing as I deny you

This is an abstract conviction,

Everything still exists by the simple idea I have on it

Spiritually beheaded

When you're out of my circle you lose the right to be someone

Someone becomes something

And now something can pretend to have won the right to die

Human circles

Human circles

Traumatism in my mind

The subject of my deceit is in front of me

Ans blood is boiling in my veins as the rage's growing in me

You can be all and nothing from a second to another

As you're over with human state there is no turning back

Just patiently wait for you fate

Human as I know me

Thing as I deny you

This is an abstract conviction
Everything still exists (human circles)
By the simple idea I have on it
Spiritually beheaded
Human circles

All of them are just things for me
