If you had told me long ago how lucky I would be I'd say forget it man. If you should tell me years from now that love has passed you by I'd say go get it.

Cause books can not explain the way
She makes me feel inside
Looks are just a part of her,
Her heart is where I hide
And here's a thought for those of you
Who think that love is blind
I see it all, and heaven never seemed so small

If you asked me if i would spend the rest of life with you I'd say "Lets live it girl." If from your mouth I love so much came hurtful words I hate, I would forgive them.

Cause books can not explain the way
She makes me feel inside
Looks are just a part of her,
Her heart is where I hide
And here's a thought for those of you
Who think that love is blind
I see it all, and heaven never seemed so small

And her picture sings this song to me untrained but so in tune. Like a hundred angel's voices coming from this very room let us thank the Lord each night for giving me this crescent moon I love it all.

And heaven never seemed so small.
