"Down, Down"

When the mornin' comes
You'll know by my shoes I've been out walking

If I don't return
You'll know I've found something to believe in
To believe in

Waiting for the sun
My heart will surely break if it starts raining

It's the oasis I seek
'Cause the sand of the desert makes me thirsty
Makes me thirsty

Down, down we all go down
'Round, 'round we all go 'round
Down, down we all go down
We all go down, down, down, down

If I learn to fly
You know I'll go places never been before

If I reach a star
You know I will dwell on it forever, forever

There are mysteries
My children have rhymes with hidden meanings

If I learn the truth
I'm sure that the end will leave me crying
Leave me crying
