it's okay I'm going home now I'll be okay tonight
I just wanna be alone now with the dark and the light that's my favorite color blue there as the sun sets in the sky there's just something in the hue there in the corner of my eye

in the dark and the light
in the blue and the white something's pure that I am missing something's sure that I am not holding back and never letting you see light a match in the dark now see my shadow on the wall doesn't look too much like me no it's not like me at all pour over what you wrote and the letters burn the page I see all the things you meant to me in the things you didn't say

all the things that I've forgotten all the things that I am not holding back and never letting you see

now I am
now I am
now I am
now I am
now I am
now I am
oooh
