Cold wind moves through me
Catching me in a breath
You're not here to ask me
Dear do you need a jacket?

And I wonder are you with her
Is she warm next to your skin?
Do you love her laughter?
Does she let you in?

And I belong to you
It doesn't matter what I do
I try to free myself but it's no use
I still belong to you

Quiet moments and I drift into us
That's still existing

Between breaths
And I wonder are you with her
Is she warm next to your skin?
Do you love her laughter?
Does she let you in?

And I belong to you
It doesn't matter what I do
I try to free myself but it's no use
I still belong to you

And I belong to you
It doesn't matter what I do
I try to free myself but it's no use
I still belong to you
