Visions in the sky, the sun arises now,
Cold wind is blowing in my face, silently
Soon the flying beast of the deep abyss
Now rises from the dark lands, spreading fear

Where the fallen wounded braveheart lies asleep
And rests after battle fighting.
In the hills, peoples gather with an aim
Planning how to defeat the scaring dragon

All around, heading proud through the blue sky
All around, lonely in the wood.

When they surround the woods of Palright,
Peoples decide how to confront the enemy.
But they do not know the dragon's strength
They will have to unite to fight and defeat it.

Where the fallen wounded braveheart lies asleep
And rests after battle fighting,
Once again, crashing noises of steel will be heard.
Finally, the strongest one will only remain.

All around, heading proud through the blue sky
All around, lonely in the wood.
The final battle took place on a dark grey day.
The confrontation between men and the beast showed that both sides had excessive power in their hands and that both of them would have to fight until reaching an end.

Having taken part in the devastation of the city of Zlord, the dragon cleverly decided to go away and hide, and thus, spend the rest of his days on earth.

All around, heading proud through the blue sky
All around , lonely in the wood.
