I've got to take the time to look back
Let down so many times before
Had to find something more

I've been pushed aside, but in the end I just keep pushing back
Been left behind, but I found something more
And what I found helped me turn it around
But I'll never forget...

I understand that look in your eyes
And the story of your life tells me
That we've travelled different roads but on the same path

You've been pushed aside, but in the end you just keep pushing back
Been left behind, but you found something more
And what you found helped you turn it around
And what we found won't let us ever forget
That we've been betrayed

BETRAYED (chorus)

Yes we have to find something more
I can learn to forgive, but never to forget
Because we've been betrayed
