"Like The Wind"

It's a brand new day
But you're back with your old tricks
Instead of a new start
You've got new wounds to lick
How much more pain
Are you going to inflict?
And once you've burned these bridges
It's on to the next clique
I just wonder HOW YOU CAN GO ON THIS WAY
Running in the same circles day after day

We wanted to trust you
But it was always the same
And your second chance
Was really the same tired game
Bo ahead and complain, but all your excuses are lame
And it's not your fate, your own fears are to blame

Running in the same circle day after fucking day

You're trying to keep others down
TO FEEL GOOD ABOUT YOURSELF
But when the people see the truth
IT'S THEN YOUR WORLD BEGINS TO MELT
Yeah, it's easy to change the scenery
BUT UNTIL YOU CHANGE WITHIN
Everyone in your life
Will come and go like the wind
