As the light fades away,
And those shadows will remain
They stare all around you
Just waiting for your move.

Right now, and you want it.
Right now, and you need it.
Right now, and you want it.
Right now, and you need it.

And your veins are open
Numbness seeping through,
Helping you to forget
This hopelessness inside you.

Right now, and you want it.
Right now, and you need it.
Right now, and you want it.
Right now, and you need it.

Your eyes are open
They can't handle the light
About to flood in
And the wake of and what this is,
You realize it starts to fade away,
You wont find out
What else you need
Until the moment, it comes to you
Inside into your mind.

Right now, and you want it.
Right now, and you need it.
Right now, and you want it.
Right now you've got to have it.
