I could be a better person but I choose not to I'm as selfish as a suicide and wait I take that back
I didn't mean to say it quite like that

Supercalifragalisticexpialadocious
I took all of my memories and threw them in the ocean
Just like that they drowned on impact
In a flurry of nightmares dressed up like dreams
I opened my eyes and managed to find some clarity

Don't hang onto words you don't understand
They're just letters in unalphabetical order anyway
Anyway, anyway, anyway

Don't hang onto words you don't understand
They're just letters in unalphabetical order anyway
Anyway, anyway, anyway

Supercalifragalisticexpialadocious
I took all of my worries spun them in a single motion
Said, "How about that, now you're on the inside"
I'm outside and warm looking in at the mess
I followed you here with planned exact steps

I made a map of the words you left in other people's ears
Wrote down your hopes, to do lists and fears
Drew you a picture, it's pretty if you squint
Regardless of my past I'm a pretty alright kid

Don't hang onto words you don't understand
They're just letters in unalphabetical order anyway

Anyway, anyway, anyway

Don't hang onto words you don't understand
They're just letters in unalphabetical order anyway
Anyway, anyway, anyway

I loved you and left you for another that kissed better
Had prettier eyes than you
For reasons unknown you always dragged me down

It's not your fault you were born in this town

But could you be a little less depressing
And maybe smile a bit more?
Hey there, I guess I'm really not good at this
But love starts with L and so does liar

You're a prettier version of yourself ten years from now
You're brilliant but often late
I'm better off friendless I guess, I guess, I guess
I guess, I guess, I guess

Well, I could be wrong I'm pretty fond of waking up
When it comes to lucky charms I eat the marshmallows first
I'm weird, sometimes, I like to be lonely
But other times I hate the sound of silence

Let's dress up like dreams and pretend we're free
Dress up like dreams and pretend we're free
Let's dress up like dreams and pretend we're free
I hear it's nice, I'd like to try it sometime
