I listen to the rain whispering your name and hurricanes cloud my life again the memory will fade and time will turn the page our love was made I dream of yesterday the fantasy is mine
it's you I long to find I close my eyes
and dream that you are here tonight make believe you're crazy for me You turn your head to hide I know the reason why the moon we ride

could drown the swelling tide I call out from the shore a siren from the sand this lonely land I am forever more
the fantasy is mine
make believe you're crazy for me
I listen to the rain whispering your name
