"I Am A Drug"

welcome to clarity
this is your mind speaking regret we ever met i'm here i will let you forget you bore me like dignity so this is your love leaking like the blood of a dying dream through the holes of an empty sea remember the taste in your mouth when you swallowed your only wishes and remember the beautiful world that always denied your kisses and the frightening freedom to change that i sheltered you from in my cold lonely hands they embraced your drunken body at night and you wonder killed your plans now i am a drug but you may pretend that your eyes are clear and your senses are true and your mind is a faithful friend
