They will be happy with anything
You know the essential
You never get too annoying or too intense
Into the arena of light entertainment and hollowness
Nobody here are undressing themselves
If you still feel like offering a single piece of yourself
Throw it out like a joke it's a major mistake in your own rubber skin

You can touch your treasure Life is hard in classrooms and bars relief is godknowshere
Start dealing with the rich people bow your head
You'll pay your attention or at least they'll pretend
The idea of a straight and narrow minded way
Will get you in touch with a few exceptions in the world
