Well I can believe because I have seen it
A moment near took my soul
I've relived a thousand times over
Each time I recall more
Sliding and gliding hydroplane was the game
Life line held clenched in fist
Panic and worry for all that we've spoken
Shared feelings that we know exist

I can say that I have lived
Because strength of will is destiny
And it lies deep inside
And never lets you die

Yellow line nightmare we crossed over
The time and place no control
The wide open eyes and fixed blank stares
I thought we were gonna die
Sailing on cold air knee deep in snow
Don't fight momentum let go
Safe on the far side escaped from the fear
The fear of dying that day

I can say that I have lived
Because strength of will is destiny
And it lies deep inside
And never lets you die

I'm living to tell you about it
I'm living to tell you about it
I'm living to tell you about it
I'm living to tell you about it
I'm living to tell you about it
I'm living to tell you about it
I'm living to tell you about it
I'm living to tell you about it
I'm living to tell you about it
I'm living to tell you about it

Do you believe my short tale?
The truth I speak shall prevail

I'm living to tell you about it right now
Do you understand me?
If not one day you'll see
I'm living to tell you about it right now
