With this life you have been given you feel a purpose
But you never seem to find out what it is
And at times you're gonna find your efforts worthless
And at times you're gonna feel there's no escape from all the things
You made that you assumed would never break

We talk of our potential to save the human race
Well i think it's essential to find your own pace
There are many ways to reach the same conclusions
None of them are better than the others
I can see we are here for each other

Now you've rejected everything you once believed
Only to find that forward motion will never cease There's no shame in falling back on what hasn't been released
You can't turn off your mind like an empty machine
We struggle to keep our conscience clean

We talk about potential to save the human race
Well, I think it's essential to find your own pace
There are many ways to reach the same conclusions
None of them are better than the others
I can see we are here for each other

You never know for sure if what you've done is right
The last thing you need right now is to pick a fight
'Cause they're the ones who helped you with all of your insight
Use it to bring what you feel about who they are to light

Talk of our potential to save the human race
Well, I think it's essential to find your own pace
There are many ways to reach the same conclusions
None of them are better than the others
I can see we are here for each other
