I point my finger, but it turned right back at me
And that's when my eyes, they get too blurry
And now I wonder why I was never satisfied
When all I needed, it was right in front of me
I said I did it, while I sit here wondering, can I hurt
more?
They're just some diamond earrings, no
They sparkle like your eyes, in the summer sun
And I know I should have told you what you mean to me
This is the hardest thing I've ever had to face Cause I've always faced my problems with you next to me
I said I did it, while I sit here wondering, can I hurt
more?
They're just some diamond earrings
I know this is my oath, so please don't cry
I said that I know, this is my oath, so please don't cry
They say a man must earn the pleasures in his life
And if that's so, I got what I had coming
My memories of you they, could never leave me dry
So all I could do, is wish you love in your new life
I said I did it, while I sit here wondering, can I hurt
more?
They're just some diamond earrings
I know this is my oath, so please don't cry
I said that I know, this is my oath
So please don't cry
I said that I know, this is my oath
So please don't cry
I know that I know, this is my oath
So please don't cry
I know, this is my oath, so please...
