And there is water everywhere but not a drop to drink
No time to get things done but too much time to think And baby it scares me right half to death Cause when I'm at my worst you always seem the best
So stop before you go so much left to know
To speak your mind is what you need Shouldn't take too long from what I've seen And history's shown us great men makin greater mistakes
God knows I've made my share but yours bout take the cake
And maybe it's something that we both had to do No where to go but down time to start on something new
So stop before you go Please rescue me, I'm under water I can't breathe
When my hand comes up for the last time fill my cup I'm lost and I'm found, you're the one that leads me around
If you're in love with the sound let it love on your hye
This ain't black this ain't white and somehow it don't seem right Drag me through the mess you made, I'm sleeping well in the beds you made
And the one that you like best, was just like all the rest
And that old thing will never fly
That's okay because we're already hye
We are hye, yeah we are hye
