So hard to get to, but happy once you're there
It's all the same to me, there is no difference I can see
Well can you, take the bad news of your case
Don't need me to refine, the truth is just a bit unkind
And she hates it when I play it straight like that
The time has come it's now or never
Can't afford to let it pass you by
You can say I've been wondering forever
Spinning your wheels till the day you die
I can't imagine, no I haven't really tried To wait it out so long, you'll bend your feelings right or wrong
So that's why, now we're getting right to this Seems so wrong because it is, your stupid fucking aunt's a bitch (funny)
And she hates it when I play it straight like that
The time has come it's now or never
Can't afford to let it pass you by
You can say I've been wondering forever
Spinning your wheels till the day you die
Until you die
The time has come, it's now or never
Can't afford to let it pass you by
You can say I've been wondering forever
Spinning your wheels till the day you die
Until you die
