I know you'd really like to let them in
To more than just your lifeless body
You once called a chapel
And i'm not here to make you feel like shit
But you must admit this is just behavior
You know you can sell so easily a second chance
Of saving them so go ahead
Add it up to second best
In every instance spend your self respect
Someone tell me why i'm writing you
It's not as though i'm saying something new
I have no interest in your elitest therapy group hell
You know that your secret's safe
With anyone who lies awake
And isn't there the next morning
It's a hard sell visiting like all the rest
Not innocent but different
And I know you hate it
This world is breeding cold ridicule
Only good for a fuck
Only good for a only good for one
