The winter's gone
And the spring has come
We've withered away
And our hearts are torn from the yesterdays

(I'm singing the blue)
I'm used to the tears, the doubt and the fears that hold
me back, oh
(I'm singing the blue)
I hope you can see, I'm losin' my grip on you, oh oh

We're lookin' up at the same old sky
'Cept that you and I are further from the place we used to love
I am leaving you with just a word
Yeah, it's selfish girl
But I have never been that good with words
Oh, this could be the end of our dream
No one can help me
Maybe this is our final scene
Watch the curtain closing, drop down low
Too bad now I've got nothin' to show

The moment I met you, this I know
I'd always let my lovin' show
But I have lost my way
Into the Blue
And when I close my eyes,
I pray we'll see it through

The winter's gone
And the spring has come
We've withered away
And our hearts are torn from the yesterdays

(I'm singing the blue)
I'm used to the tears, the doubt and the fears that hold
me back, oh
(I'm singing the blue)
I hope you can see, I'm losin' my grip on you, oh oh

I wish that I could feel my cold heart

But we're so far apart
Just like the ocean that's between our love
Your type of love is like a trauma
When all is said and done
I'll dry my tears and think of what we were

My apathy is all I've got for now
Nothin's gonna hold me down
I can't take your complicated run-around
And I don't care if you ain't there for me now
'Cause I got a new sound
People come and go like downtown

The moment I met you, this I know
I'd always let my lovin' show
But I have lost my way
Into the Blue
And when I close my eyes
I pray we'll see it through

The winter's gone
And the spring has come
We've withered away
And our hearts are torn from the yesterdays

And when the night has come
And we're underneath the stars
Thinking what went wrong
Falling asleep alone
But you'll always know
That even in my dreams I sing this song

(I'm singing the blue)
I'm used to the tears, the doubt and the fears that hold
me back, oh
(I'm singing the blue)
I hope you can see, I'm losin' my grip on you, oh oh

(I'm singing the blue)
I'm used to the tears, the doubt and the fears that hold
me back, oh
(I'm singing the blue)
I hope you can see, I'm losin' my grip on you, oh oh
