Oohho

Have you never ever blamed yourself
For all that was evil
Have you never ever been misjudged
By the jury of your equals
Wrong place, wrong time
With the smallest circumstanses
Could change your mind
And make you cross the line

We could lie until there's no one left to use
We could cheat until there's no one left to sue
We'll make peace until there's no one left to shoot
We'll make love, until it becomes the truth

Oohho, the gods get angry
Oohho, and not to waste

Have you never ever blamed yourself
For all that was evil
Have you never ever been misjudged
By the jury of your equals
Wrong place, wrong time
With the smallest circumstanses
Could change your mind
And make you cross the line

We could cheat until there's no one left to sue
We'll make love, until it becomes the truth

Oohho, the gods get angry
Oohho, and not to waste
Oohho, the gods get angry
Oohho, and not to waste
