Well if your heart breaks
Tear it apart
If your mind fails
Give it a start

Everything you need
Underneath your shoe
Pick up the pieces
And fix it with glue

Believe in the dream
Like Americans do

If you lost your job
Tell me about it
Had a sweet drunken father
Shout it out

Old scars make this friendship true
I'm not too proud to wait for you

Or to believe in this
Like Americans do

Love is lonely
Like a Saturday night
Or your Sunday's best
Torn in a fight

Dancing with mirrors to the devil's tunes
Loners in the neon just a chosen few

Believing they're saved
Like Americans do

If your heart breaks
Tear it apart
If your mind fails
Give it a start

Everything you need

Underneath your shoe
I'm not too proud to wait for you

Or to believe in this
Or pretend to
Like Americans do

Love is lonely
Like a Saturday night
Or your Sunday's best
Torn in a fight

Dancing with mirrors to the devil's tunes
Loners in the neon just a chosen few

Believing they're saved
Believing they're saved
Like Americans do
