Look into your eyes know what is wrong
Conversation seems to roll

You've crossed the line, you damaged your mind
Cause all time you sit and watch the tube
Look what's happened to you

Now your work is completeley a wreck
Go to get yourself in a? check

Against the wall you're read to fall
Cause all and all you don't know what to do, my friend
Is it really the end of the world

Don't you know that your life experience could end
You know that I can not be cured

You've crossed the line, you damaged your mind
Cause all time you sit and watch the tube
With bats in the belfry, look what's happened to you
Look what's happened to you

Against the wall you're read to fall
Cause all and all you don't know what to do
With bats in the belfry, look what's happened to you
Look what's happened to you, my friend
Is it really the end of the world

Take the time to step outside yourself
You can find some strength to carry on Until it's gone I know it's not too late for you
