...and in change we disappear,
And we change, we stay forever here.
Drowning in fear.
... and if life was just a game
Would we still demand "no pride, no shame"?
We're all losing.
Well guess what my friend,
Life's the only game you'll ever play,
So forget the rules.
Get back on your feet
And try to remember we're here to play.
No pride, no shame. No fun and games.
No love, no pain. No fun and games.
This is not a game. Life is not a game.
