You gave me nothing but a bleeding nose cut the connection to my sanity I blame myself for losing grip on this I blame myself for your toxic kisses

I've been used again
Your pooh-poohish position regarding me my fucked up love for you I erase you raised your hand on me
I guess I repress the mess you cause me

I've been used again
I postpone my emancipation
I close my eyes for my bruises and the scars and what about the money you owe me and what about the promises you gave

I've been used again
You're the tremendous mistake in front of me why is my sight so foggy What the motherfuck is wrong with me what the motherfuck is wrong with you

I've been used again
