We won't get any younger

Sometimes I look at you I think that you deserve more than anyone can ever offer you But I am here I'm standing next to you Will still be standing when you're 64

I wish that we could go some place far away
I wish we could afford it Some place to take a break some place with no connection with no connection to the dirty world

We won't get any younger

This is our world
We can do what we want to
That simple thought has kept me up all night I'm too young not to see that the best days could be ahead of me and I'm too restless to retire

We won't get any younger

A mouth full of words and my pockets full of melodies
I kept Pablo in a cage for too long And the radio people suck the proudest men and women
They keep ignoring me as I was dirt

Time will not come back to you and time will not come back to me I'm gonna die with a smile on my face and I'm gonna die beside you

We won't get any younger
