There you go yea I'll watch you fade away
Like butter on a hot knife
There she goes yea she used to sing to me
From her invisible mic
There you go yea I'll watch her fade away
Into the cold, cloudy, May sky
There she goes yea she used to laugh with me
Now it's just a casual hi
Casual hi

Here I am open up
We'll give this thing a shot of love
Instead we'll watch it slip away
Remember what it used to be
As time slips by apparently
You and I aren't meant to be

There she goes yea she used to look up at me
With those pretty brown speckled eyes
There she goes yea she used to walk with me
Down the sandy moon lit beach
There you go yea I'll watch you fade away
But this songs about to play

Here I am open up
We'll give this thing a shot of love
Instead we'll watch it slip away
Remember what it used to be
As time slips by apparently
You and I aren't meant to be

Kristen is a nice girl always making my world
Something really bigger, something really better when it's not
Kristen is a nice girl always making my world
Something really bigger, something really better when
it's not
Kristen was a nice girl always made my world
Something really bigger, something really better when
it's not
Kristen was a nice girl always made my world
Something really bigger, something really better when

it's not
When it's not

Here I am open up
We'll give this thing a shot of love
Instead we'll watch it slip away
How about you dance with me
A bomb of love it would be
But there's no damn way to light it off
