It's just me
It's just me
It's just me
Living inside you

That voice you hear in the morning
Is me opening your eyes
The darkness that you feel each evening
Is just my lonely cry

Don't let me change the way you're living
I'm just in here with my love
I lost my vanity and judgment
When I found nothing up above

It's just me
It's just me
It's just me
Living inside you

That jealous rage that took me from you
Is just a whisper in the wind
The breeze that carried me back to you
Is the memory of my friend

It's just me
It's just me
It's just me
Living inside you
