I thought my life was empty enough, but when I saw you,
it changed my life,
I never thought how love could change a person so much, though I now know how effective it could be,
in my life,
If I couldn't have you I would never see the sun, nor find myself in this world, I would never know who I really am,
If I couldn't have you,
If I couldn't have you

though life my life might be whole, with you in it,
But without you it's like an empty world,
of darkness,
surrounding me by every corner.
Though there's nothing more I need except for you in it, I thought there was something new and frightening in my spot for a change, in my life!
If I couldn't have Youuuuuuuuuuu
If I couldn't have you!
